Title VI Program Update

Public transportation in the City is provided by the Harrisonburg Department of Public Transportation (HDPT), a department within the City government. HDPT operates fixed-route bus service, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) paratransit service, and scheduled routes to Bridgewater and Dayton. The transit system operates six full-time routes geared toward City residents, and several more seasonal routes during the school year, geared toward James Madison University (JMU) students. JMU accounts for about 90% of the system's ridership. HDPT directly operates all fixed route and paratransit service. The 2018 population of HDPT's service area is approximately 55,160. HDPT does not have subrecipients.

A map of transit routes is available at: <http://www.harrisonburgva.gov/index.php?id=168>

Transit routes are available in all census tracts within the City of Harrisonburg.

Annual Title VI Certification and Assurance

In accordance with 49 CFR Section 21.7, HDPT submits the FTA Civil Rights Assurance annually stating that the applicant will carry out the program in compliance with DOT's Title VI regulations.

Service Standards and Policies

FTA Circular 4702.1B, Chapter III, Paragraph 10: All fixed route transit providers shall set service standards and policies for each specific fixed route mode of service they provide.

HDPT has prepared standards for all modes it operates including fixed route and paratransit.

Service Standards

A. Vehicle Load

Vehicle load for each mode: Generally expressed as the ratio of passengers to the number of seats on a vehicle, relative to the vehicle's maximum load point.

HDPT routes provide transportation throughout the City of Harrisonburg serving both the citizens of Harrisonburg and the JMU community. Due to the nature of some of HDPT's routes serving major apartment complexes and inner campus service while JMU is in session, some routes experience more frequent standee volumes than others. The average of all loads during the operating period should not exceed vehicles' achievable capacities, which are 19 for Small Bus, 70 for 35' Transit Bus (JMU), and 37 for 35' Transit Bus (City).

Vehicle Type	Average Passenger Capacities
	Seated	Standing	Total	Max Load Factor
Small Bus	12	7	19	1.6
35' Transit Bus (JMU)	32	38	70	2.2
35' Transit Bus (City)	32	5	37	1.2

HDPT defines overcrowding as being when ridership on any given trip exceeds the seated capacity of the bus normally assigned to that route an average of at least once per week over a period of a month (defined as “chronic overcrowding”).

B. Vehicle Headway

HDPT defines Vehicle Headway as being the length of time it takes a bus from the start of a trip to the end of the trip for a particular route.

Vehicle headways for HDPT services vary by route and time of day. Headway variation among routes is based on ridership demand which is driven largely by JMU during peak class times as well as workplace populations at or near transfer locations.

C. Service Availability

Service availability for each mode: A general measure of the distribution of routes within an agency's service area.

Riders using HDPT fixed route utilize main transfer hubs throughout the City including the East Gay St. Transfer Center, Godwin Transit Center (JMU), and the Cloverleaf Shopping Center. These major transfer locations located throughout the City as well as on JMU's campus create a large network of possible riders creating a very large potential catchment area. Routes are structured to serve major points of JMU's campus, Apartment Complexes, and other major points of interest in the City of Harrisonburg.

D. On-Time Performance

On-time performance for each mode: A measure of runs completed as scheduled.

One of the most important of HDPT's service standards is its On-Time Performance or adherence to published schedules.

HDPT utilizes AVAIL for CAD/AVL. AVAIL provides system-wide on-time performance data. HDPT reviews on-time performance data and establishing baselines and standards, policies, and monitoring practices.

Using AVAIL, HDPT staff reviews on-time performance of each route monthly showing deficiencies in the route. HDPT defines insufficient on-time performance as being if a route is found to be more than 7 minutes late or leaving early more than 10% of the time.

Service Policies

A. Vehicle Assignment

HDPT utilizes 35' transit buses with various seating arrangements. Bus seating arrangement types are made appropriate to service type. Due to a generally higher ridership and higher volume of standees, buses with parameter style seating arrangements are assigned to Inner Campus routes as well as routes with higher volume during peak JMU class times.

B. Transit Amenities

HDPT's transit amenities (bus shelters, trash cans, lighting, benches, etc.) are distributed on a system-wide basis.

Limited English Proficiency Plan (LEP)

REQUIREMENT TO PROVIDE MEANINGFUL ACCESS TO LEP PERSONS

Title VI and its implementing regulations require that FTA recipients take responsible steps to ensure meaningful access to the benefits, services, information, and other important portions of their programs and activities for individuals who are Limited English Proficient (LEP).

Executive Order 13166, titled Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency, indicates that differing treatment based upon a person's inability to speak, read, write or understand English is a type of national origin discrimination. It directs each agency to publish guidance clarifying their obligation to ensure that such discrimination does not take place. This order applies to all state and local agencies which receive federal funds, including all transit departments receiving federal grant funds.

The U.S. DOT's FTA Office of Civil Rights' publication "Implementing the Department of Transportation's Policy Guidance Concerning Recipients' Responsibilities to Limited English Proficient Persons – A Handbook for Public Transportation Providers" was used in the preparation of this plan.

Contents

This plan contains:

1. A needs assessment based on the four-factor analysis

4. Providing notice to LEP persons
5. Methods for monitoring, evaluating and updating plan

Factor 2: Frequency identifies the frequency staff encounters LEP persons.

LEP persons are persons identified as speaking English less than very well, not well or not at all. Just because a person speaks a language other than English doesn't mean they don't speak English or are identified as LEP.

Interviews with drivers, dispatchers and city staff about contact with LEP persons were used to determine that the procedures currently in place are sufficient for HDPT in serving LEP persons. HDPT has an increasingly diverse team of drivers who speak many different languages. Drivers utilize fellow coworkers in the field to assist non-English speaking passengers. The City of Harrisonburg recognizes the value of having bi-lingual or multi-lingual employees by having an incentive program that tests their proficiency. A passing score of the language proficiency test entitles that employee to an hourly wage increase. Drivers and dispatchers report very little contact with LEP persons during operations. During training drivers are instructed to pass a schedule in Spanish to the passenger so they can show the driver their destination. Virginia Relay service is used when communicating with hearing impaired riders. In an ongoing effort to meet the present and future needs of the community, HDPT staff will continue to identify LEP individuals in our service area. To date, HDPT has had one request for an interpreter.

Factor 3: The Importance to LEP Persons of our programs, activities and services:

HDPT considers transit to be an increasingly important and essential service for many people living in our service area. Our goal is to continue to communicate with Human Service Organizations, Medical Organizations and Community Programs in our area to identify any LEP person's inability to utilize effectively public transportation that may adversely affect his or her ability to obtain health care, education, or access to employment.

Factor 4: The Resources Available to HDPT and Cost to Deliver LEP Program:

HDPT is a small urban recipient with a limited budget. Using community resources and technological advances available, with limited staff we have been able to meet the needs of LEP persons in the City of Harrisonburg transportation area. The department has used interpretation services once.

Language Assistance Measures

Language assistance measures currently used and planned to be used:

- Continue to produce Bus Schedules and maps in Spanish in print and on our website
- Continue to produce Large Print Schedules
- Provide instructions to vehicle operators and dispatch who regularly interact with the public on how to respond to an LEP customer as needed (new hire, departmental meetings). Drivers interviewed said they are usually able to ask another passenger on the bus to help them understand or point to the routes or destination on the schedule. Community service groups also help passengers by writing their destination on paper to give to the bus drivers.

HDPT Operator Training Plan

HDPT Operators should know their obligations to provide meaningful access to information and services for LEP persons.

The following training will be provided to all staff:

- Information on the Title VI Policy and LEP responsibilities.
- Description of language assistance services offered to the public.
- Documentation of language assistance requests.
- How to handle a potential Title VI/LEP complaint.
- HDPT staff will also take advantage of any “outside” training provided by FTA, Virginia Department of Rail and Public Transportation, MPO or the City.

City of Harrisonburg – City Council

The City Council is the elected governing body of the City of Harrisonburg and is made up of five members elected at-large.

Providing Notice to LEP Persons

HDPT will continue to follow the following measures to notify LEP persons of language assistance services available:

- HDPT will work with community-based organizations and other stakeholders to inform LEP individuals of HDPT’s services;
- Provide Spanish copies of the Bus Schedule at dispatch and on the buses;
- Provide Spanish translation of the HDPT website.

Methods for Monitoring, Evaluating and Updating the Plan

HDPT will update the LEP Plan as needed. Updates will be submitted to FTA as part of the Title VI submission every three years. At a minimum, the plan will be reviewed annually and updated because of the review or when it is clear that higher concentrations of LEP individuals are present in the area served. Monitoring and evaluating the plan will allow HDPT to track outreach efforts to help improve future efforts. Updates will include the following:

- Information from drivers and dispatchers to evaluate if the number of LEP person contacts encountered is increasing.
- How the needs of LEP persons have been addressed based on feedback received.
- Determination of the current LEP population in the service area by using census data.
- Determination as to whether the need for translation services has changed.
- Determine whether local language assistance programs have been effective and sufficient to meet the need.
- Determine whether HDPT fully complies with the goals of this LEP Plan.
- Determine whether complaints have been received concerning the agency's failure to meet the needs of LEP individuals.
- Maintain a Title VI complaint log, including LEP to determine issues and basis of complaints. This log will be maintained as part of the Civil Rights Database.

This LEP Plan is available at no cost in English upon request by telephone, fax, mail or in person. If requested to be provided in another language and it is feasible to have it translated, it shall be provided at no cost to the requestor.

HDPT will post signs at conspicuous and accessible locations notifying LEP persons of the LEP Plan.

ASEGURAN QUE REAPARECIÓ EL "CHUPACABRAS"

Nicaragua: Campesinos de la región occidental de Nicaragua reportaron la supuesta aparición de un extraño animal conocido como "chupacabras", que se ha cobrado la vida de varios carneros y cabras de la zona.

Según la oficialista "Nueva Radio Ya", pobladores del municipio de Malpaisillo, provincia de León (oeste) aseguran que el temido "chupacabras" ha vuelto a azotar las comunidades rurales de Nicaragua tras 15 años de ausencia. Según la radio, la policía se presentó al lugar y no encontró rastros de sangre ni de otro animal o ser humano que pudiese haber matado a las cabras.

El famoso "chupacabras" es un mítico animal parecido a un perro y del tamaño de un oso pequeño, que supuestamente ataca a carneros, cabras y ovejas hasta matarlos succionándoles la sangre como lo harían los vampiros. La supuesta presencia del "chupacabras" fue reportada por primera vez en 1995 en Puerto Rico y luego fue visto, entre otros países, en Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras, Colombia, México, Rusia, Filipinas, Estados Unidos y Chile, donde un grupo de música hip hop hasta le compuso una canción. Los campesinos reportaron que pobladores del municipio de Malpaisillo hallaron ocho cabras muertas en la finca El Genízaro, a unos 134 kilómetros de la capital, donde otras cuatro desaparecieron, lo que les hace pensar que el "chupacabras" ha vuelto.

La policía no encontró rastros de sangre ni de otro animal o ser humano que pudiese haber matado a las cabras. Se dice que el "chupacabras" tiene apariencia de perro, es del tamaño de un oso pequeño, y succiona la sangre de carneros, cabras y ovejas hasta dejarlos sin vida.

'WOLF' ERUPCIONA LUEGO DE 33 AÑOS

El volcán Wolf, el más alto del archipiélago de Galápagos y que está situado en el norte de la isla Isabela, empezó un proceso eruptivo la madrugada del lunes con expulsión de flujos de lava, luego de 33 años de inactividad.

El Parque Nacional Galápagos (PNG) indicó a través de su cuenta de Twitter que la "erupción aún no representa riesgo para operaciones turísticas por lo que no se ha cerrado sitios cercanos al vol-cán". Explicó que cerca del volcán no existen asentamientos humanos y que las poblaciones de iguanas rosadas, amarillas y de tortugas gigantes, ubicadas al otro lado de la erupción podrían no verse afectadas.

En tanto, la información del Instituto Geofísico (IG) indica que existen "varios flujos de lava" descendiendo por los flancos sur y sureste del volcán "avanzando hacia la orilla del mar".

Dadas las direcciones de las columnas de erupción que se registran al momento "estas podrían pasar sobre la población de Puerto Villamil eventualmente dando lugar a la caída de productos volcánicos finos", alertó el Geofísico. La Secretaría Nacional de Gestión de Riesgos indicó en su cuenta de Twitter que hasta el momento "no existe afectación a población".

La última erupción del volcán se registró en agosto de 1982.

¿UNA COPA DIARIA O BORRACHERA EL FIN DE SEMANA?

Para aquellos bebedores que aún no saben qué es peor para la salud, si es mejor tomarse unos tragos diarios o una gran borrachera el fin de semana (dejando descansar al hígado seis días), dos médicos gemelos, que conducen el programa Horizon de la BBC, pusieron ambas teorías a prueba con sus propios cuerpos durante dos meses. La conclusión: las dos son igual de perjudiciales.

Los protagonistas del experimento fueron los médicos Christopher y Alexander van Tulleken (Chris y Xand), quienes realizan programas educativos de televisión en los que se someten a condiciones extremas para entender y explicar cómo funciona el cuerpo humano.

El primer paso, según el artículo de la BBC Mundo, ambos se sometieron a una limpieza antes de las pruebas, analizaron las guías de consumo de alcohol establecidas por el Servicio Nacional de Salud de Reino Unido (NHS), que recomiendan que aquellos que beben a diario no deben consumir más de tres tragos, dos cervezas o dos copas de vino. En cambio, aquellos que beben intensamente en una sola sentada, se les aconseja evitar el alcohol mínimo 48 horas. La principal conclusión en esta etapa previa fue que la guía no tiene muchas bases científicas. La razón: el volumen etílico fluctúa según la variedad de la bebida.

La primera etapa del experimento para ambos médicos fue permanecer un mes sin ingerir licor. Esto con el fin de limpiar su organismo, para tener condiciones similares antes de empezar a ingerir licor. Pasado este tiempo, les practicaron pruebas médicas y de sangre para determinar que tenían un hígado saludable.

Superada esta fase, empezaron a beber. A Chris le correspondió ingerir 250 mililitros de vino todos los días durante un mes. A Xand, por su parte, le correspondió tomar el fin de semana, en una sentada, 21 tragos de vodka (que equivalen a tres cuartos de botella).

"Las lecturas que se tomaron de su sangre, particularmente unas horas después de que se fue a dormir, indicaban niveles que podrían causar la muerte por intoxicación etílica, según los textos especializados", dice el artículo de la BBC.

Mientras Xand pasaba seis días de recuperación, su hermano Chris seguía con su rutina de tres unidades diarias, repartiendo el consumo a lo largo del día, tomando una copa de vino con el almuerzo, por ejemplo, y la otra en la noche. El principal efecto, según el médico, fue que sintió que no rendía tanto en su trabajo.

En contraste, Xand empezó a esperar con ahínco sus noches de borrachera tras seis días de recuperación. Sin embargo, las embriagadas no le hacían nada bien y seguían afectándolo por varios días. Nunca se recuperó entre una sesión y otra de intenso consumo, señala el artículo.

El resultado médico final, tras un mes de experimento, fue que el hígado de ambos estaba casi igual de deteriorado. "Las conclusiones: en primer lugar, las guías sobre las 3 a 4 unidades para un hombre como límite "saludable" deben revisarse. Eso es algo que se ha estado analizando en Reino Unido, con nuevas guías que serán anunciadas este verano. Segundo, nuestros hígados pueden recuperarse, pero necesitan mucho más tiempo del que se pensaba. La situación es tan clara que lo médicos que asistieron a la prueba para el programa de la BBC lanzaron un amplio estudio clínico al respecto, midiendo los efectos de una total abstinencia durante un mes con más de 100 voluntarios", concluyó el informe.

EL FRUCTÍFERO NEGOCIO DE LA INFIDELIDAD 2.0

Los sitios web de citas especializadas en personas casadas o comprometidas en una relación empiezan a extenderse. Sus propios datos y diversos estudios muestran que la infidelidad puede ser un negocio extremadamente rentable.

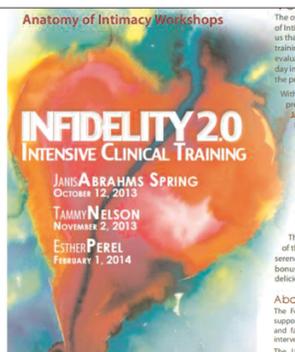

Noel Biderman habla como un director ejecutivo de tecnología al uso: salpica su discurso de palabras como "rupturista" y, por supuesto, su start-up no es sólo un negocio, sino un instrumento de "impacto social".

"Estoy facilitando que las mujeres se igualen a los hombres", dice sobre AshleyMadison.com, una página de internet que creó en 2001.

Biderman, un antiguo abogado deportivo que dice que a menudo se vio obligado a tratar con las consecuencias de las aventuras de sus clientes, insiste en que está ayudando a las mujeres a equipararse con los hombres.

Y no se refiere a darles el mismo salario o más formación, sino a posibilitarles que los engañen tanto como ellos lo hacen.

"Hay un gran negocio, desde burdeles a agencias, que que el grupo que maneja esta web, Avid Media Life (que dirige otros sitios de citas) ha tratado de sacar acciones al mercado.

En 2011, la compañía intentó hacerlo en Toronto (Canadá) pero se vio obligada a retirarse cuando la Bolsa de la ciudad y los inversores se resistieron a la propuesta.

La web se encuentra ahora en 46 países y cuenta con 30 millones de miembros a nivel mundial.

Biderman ahora piensa que Londres sería una mejor apuesta, porque es una ciudad que se siente más cómoda con "el pecado o los negocios controvertidos".

Se está refiriendo a que Ashley Madison es el portal para engañar a los esposos. Su lema es poco sutil: "La vida es corta. Ten una aventura".

Manuel Montevidoni, director financiero de Gleeden no entiende por qué Ashley Madison busca financiación, pero apoya sus esfuerzos.

En su opinión, su campaña puede concienciar a la sociedad de la ubicuidad de la infidelidad y permitirá un mejor conocimiento de lo que defienden ambas empresas: que es un aspecto fundamental no sólo del matrimonio sino de la naturaleza humana.

"Estamos demostrando a la sociedad algunos datos recién descubiertos que pueden hacerles pensar diferente acerca de las leyes y la monogamia", dice por su parte Biderman.

"Un profundo legado que hay que dejar atrás", concluye.

HRMPO PUBLIC NOTICE

The Harrisonburg-Rockingham Metropolitan Planning Organization (HRMPO) hereby releases for public comment an Amendment to the FY17 Transit TIP and an Amendment to the HRMPO 2035 Constrained Long-Range Transportation Plan. Copies of both amendments may be reviewed online at www.hrvampo.org or in person by calling the HRMPO administrator at 540-885-5174 for a list of locations throughout the region where it is available.

Public Hearing BRIDGEWATER COUNCIL AND PLANNING COMMISSION AMENDMENTS TO ZONING ORDINANCE

Please take notice that on June 14, 2016, at 7:00 p.m., in the council chambers of the Bridgewater Community Center, 201 Green Street, Bridgewater, Virginia, the Bridgewater Town Council and Planning Commission will conduct a joint public hearing on certain textual amendments to the Town's zoning ordinance. The major changes can be summarized as follows:

1. Changes to the chapter regulating signs in the Town. These changes are intended to make our sign ordinance content-neutral, in accord with last year's Reed v. Town of Gilbert decision from the Supreme Court. In order to comply with the decision, the proposed changes remove content-based regulations. For example, a regulation which applies to 'For Sale' signs would be content-based and therefore at risk the decision. The proposed changes would make all of the Town's sign provisions content-neutral.

2. Changes to the chapter on variances to comply with state law which will allow variances in cases where strict application of the ordinance will unreasonably restrict the utilization of the property.

Further details concerning the proposed amendments are available in the office of the Town Superintendent during normal working hours.

Public Participation Plan
Harrisonburg / Rockingham MPO
19 July 2007

This Plan is prepared on behalf of the Harrisonburg-Rockingham Metropolitan Planning Organization (HRMPO) through a cooperative process involving the City of Harrisonburg, County of Rockingham, Town of Bridgewater, Town of Dayton and Town of Mt. Crawford, Virginia, Department of Transportation, Virginia Department of Rail and Public Transportation, Federal Highway Administration, and the Federal Transit Administration.

This Public Participation Plan is the second amendment to the original Public Involvement Plan (PIP) adopted by HRMPO on 20 April 2006. The first series of amendments to the PIP occurred on 21 September 2006. The second series of amendments to the PIP resulted in a wholesale reorganization of the document in order to make it compliant with SAFETEA-LU regulations. The PIP thus became the Public Participation Plan (PPP) on 19 July 2007.

The preparation of this work program was financially aided through grants from the Federal Highway Administration, Federal Transit Administration, Virginia Department of Transportation, Virginia Department of Rail and Public Transportation, and the five localities comprising the HRMPO. Administrative support and technical assistance was provided by the Central Shenandoah Planning District Commission.
