PURPOSE

Blue Ridge Community College is dedicated to the belief that each individual should be afforded a continuing opportunity for the development and extension of his skills and knowledge along with an opportunity to increase his awareness of his role and responsibility in society. The College is devoted to serving the educational needs of the local community and assumes a responsibility to help meet the requirements for trained manpower in its region through a cooperative effort with local industry, business, professions, and government.

A variety of educational opportunities is provided for post-high school age youth and adults. This includes high quality instructional programs at the associate degree level and at the preparatory or foundations level. A strong counseling program along with a number of other student services is also provided to help each student make sound decisions regarding his occupational, educational, and personal-social plans.

Blue Ridge Community College is also committed to serving local industries by conducting special in-plant programs for the upgrading of the employees and specialized skills.

Blue Ridge is also committed to serving all the people of its community through day and evening programs, both credit and non-credit, with a special emphasis in non-credit, cultural enrichment programs for adults.

PROGRAMS

Blue Ridge Community College is a comprehensive institution of higher education, offering programs of instruction generally extending not more than two years beyond the high school level.

1. Occupational-Technical Education. The occupational and technical education programs are designed to meet the increasing demand for technicians, semi-professional workers, and skilled craftsmen for employment in industry, business, the
