How did you hear about volunteering on a board or commission? Cable Website Council Meeting
 Other: City Council

Why do you wish to serve on a board or commission?

The congregation in which I am a pastor has as a core value responsible care for the environment. We believe care of the environment is an responsibility of people of our faith and that God has asked humans to be good stewards of the creation.

Our congregation has an active Creation Care Group (CCG) of which I am the church pastor staff representative. The Harrisonburg Mennonite Church CCG lists our values to be:

- Respect for God's creation
- Restoration of God's creation
- Pursuit of creation friendly lifestyles
- Respect for those with diverse views

What relevant experience or education do you have to this board or commission?

I was a senior administrator, Education Director, of a international development mission in Nepal, United Mission to Nepal. A part of that role was to do strategic planning according to the values of the organization which included environmental restoration and care. I participated creation development project plans goals, values and intended outcomes. It was understood that community participation and ownership of any initiative was vital. Further, it was understood that the process of implementation of any initiative in a community was a major factor in the benefit to the stakeholders.

What other interests or concerns do you have regarding the community?

I have interest in the ways that we incarcerate offenders and efforts to restore them to productive community members.

I am interested in the positive integration of immigrants into our community. Respect for human dignity produces health, peace and prosperity for us all.

Please list any past or present community involvement e.g. City Council, Board and Commissions, Citizen Academy, etc. in Harrisonburg or elsewhere:

I have not been involved in any government community committee. Most of my efforts in building community have been through our church congregation.

-Please return completed application to the City Manager's Office-
